GREAT NEW BOOK

Find and Seize Great Opportunities!

Seeing David in the Stone searches for answers to three timeless questions:

1. How did some people find and seize the great opportunities of their times?
2. What can we learn from them to help us find and seize great opportunities?
3. How did innovative leaders help organizations find and seize great opportunities?

This book answers the questions from the successes and failures of 70 leaders, including:

Bill Gates • Abraham Lincoln • Leonardo da Vinci
Dwight Eisenhower • Sam Walton • Galileo • Albert Einstein • Thomas Edison • Winston Churchill

"This book distills the wisdom of the ages and presents it as a life-changing potion. It is entertaining, and the messages are unforgettable... one of the few books that changed the reader's life by its insights — it changed mine and will change yours. It's a masterpiece, a legacy for generations to come. Seeing David in the Stone is the must-read book of its era."

—John Marlotti, Past President, Rubbermaid

Co-author Jim Swartz has been a director of lean productivity improvement for a $3 billion corporation. He has also been a plant manager, a physics researcher and a product design manager. Co-author Joe Swartz has consulted with a number of companies in leading them into lean Six Sigma manufacturing and engineering change. He is currently director of business transformation for the St. Francis Hospital and Health Care Centers in Indianapolis.
